

Imijelo Yophuhliso Profile

Imijelo Yophuhliso is a community development organisation (NPO) that advances youth empowerment, community wellbeing, disability inclusion, intergenerational learning, and social participation through life-skills education, community-based rehabilitation (CBR), community engagement, and research.

Guided by the theory of change:

Identity → Behaviour → Agency → Opportunity

Imijelo offers community-based platforms that enable people, families, and communities to build agency, foster inclusion, and access opportunities that improve wellbeing.

Under this umbrella, the Organisation's work is organised into three strategic pillars.

Pillar 1: Future Readiness and Opportunity Development

Motto: Personal Growth Through Money Management

Identity → Behaviour → Agency → Opportunity

Using money management as a pathway to personal growth, informed choices, and future readiness.

This pillar incorporates the Smart Generation Movement (SGM) as the Organisation's flagship youth development platform.

The Smart Generation Movement (SGM)

Motto: Personal growth through money management

The programme supports young people to develop a strong sense of identity, make positive life choices, build confidence and agency, and pursue opportunities for their future.

Focus areas include:

- Money management
- Career readiness
- Leadership development
- Mentorship
- Future planning
- Agency

Through this work, young people are equipped with the knowledge, skills, networks, and confidence needed to pursue opportunities, make informed life choices, and successfully navigate their transition into adulthood.

Pillar 2: Community Wellbeing and Inclusion

Motto: Collective Agency for Wellbeing and Inclusion

This pillar brings together initiatives that strengthen wellbeing, inclusion, family resilience, and community participation.

Activities include:

- Disability inclusion programmes
- Parent support groups for caregivers of children with disabilities
- Youth wellbeing initiatives
- Savings & Investment Groups

The Savings and Investment model addresses socio-economic challenges and youth unemployment. Members use pooled savings to strengthen financial resilience and initiate income-generating activities, promoting sustainable livelihoods and economic inclusion for youth, including youth with disabilities. The inclusion of parent support groups strengthens families, promotes peer learning among caregivers, improves support for children with disabilities, and contributes to the development of more inclusive communities.

Pillar 3: Intergenerational Care and Learning

Motto: Learning Across Generations, Growing Together

This pillar represents a distinctive Imijelo niche, recognising that inclusive communities and active citizenship are strengthened when children, youth, and older adults meaningfully engage in intergenerational care, learning, and knowledge exchange.

Focus areas include:

- Intergenerational Care and Learning
- Community Participation and Social Inclusion
- Active Citizenship

Activities may include:

- Indigenous Play
- Storytelling
- Knowledge Exchange Initiatives
- Intergenerational Learning Activities
- Community Dialogues and Engagement Sessions
